

Triple Klein bottle, internally linked c. 2005–19
Cliff Stoll (b. 1950)
Glass work by 邢玮 (Ms. Xing Wei) of Shanghai, China
borosilicate glass
Courtesy of the artist
L2021.0902.003

Real part of the Weierstrass elliptic p-function c. 1880s–90s
L. Brill
Germany
plaster
Courtesy of the Department of Mathematics, University of California, Berkeley
L2021.0913.002

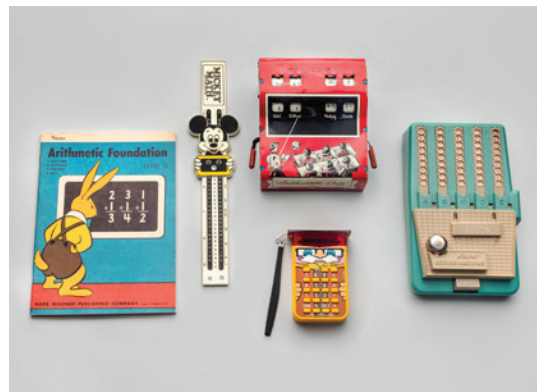

Millionaire calculating machine c. 1904
Otto Steigler (1858–1923)
Hans W. Egli
Zurich
Courtesy of Cliff Stoll
L2021.0902.012

Friden electronic calculator model 132 c. 1965
Friden Calculating Machine Company, Inc.
San Leandro, California
Courtesy of Cliff Stoll
L2021.0902.011

Dodecahedron, Hexahedron, and Rhombic Triacontahedron sculptures c. 2019
Stacy Speyer
laser cut stainless steel, hand bent, with stainless steel fasteners
Courtesy of the artist
L2021.0912.001-03

Arithmetic Foundation book and Arithmetic quiz c. 1940s
Various American Manufacturers
Courtesy of Mickey McGowan, Unknown Museum Archives
L2021.0909.002, .006

Mickey Math and Toy adding machine c. 1960s
Various American Manufacturers
Courtesy of the Computer History Museum
XB229.82; X81.82
L2021.0904.008; L2021.0904.011

Little Professor 1976
Texas Instruments Incorporated (TI)
Dallas
Courtesy of the Computer History Museum
102630257; L2021.0904.010